Founded in Oxford

A studious learning ambience since 1973

The success of a course is dependent on the community of purpose that stems from the ambitions and drive of every single participant. This strong conviction has always led OISE to appeal to the more motivated students who inspire each other and establish a serious study environment. All participants are coached to target a level of eloquence in English that exceeds their own expectations.

OISE's pedagogy gives the student a fresh look at their established language learning beliefs. In addition to building the core knowledge of the language, the elaborate suite of modules on an OISE course provides the student with a strategy to manipulate the language, whatever the required communicative situation be it in a business or an academic context.

Language and personal development

Educational Engineering

Precision - fine tuning - performance - calibration - confidence - achievement

OISE courses are designed without compromise. They are structured with innovation and rigour. All aspects of performance in the language are evaluated with the aim of immersing the participant in different types of learning activities. These yield strong results by building the learner's confidence in expressing themselves fluently in English with elegance and accuracy. The overriding objective is to give the learner sufficient confidence never to be at a disadvantage among other English speakers.

for high achievers

Constant opportunities to perform in English. Constant encouragement to practise the language within a study community of highly motivated language learners. It is in such a studious environment that participants are challenged and driven to exceed their own expectations and personal goals. Because of their focus on serious, concentrated study programmes, OISE schools are the preferred choice of the most ambitious and committed students.

The expertise, enthusiasm and sympathetic approach of the teaching team all combine to sustain the student's effort and concentration making each lesson a productive and stimulating learning experience. Coming from diverse study and career backgrounds, they are able to offer instruction in a wide range of specialised areas of the language.

Teachers are chosen for their personal qualities and their ability both to engage the participants and to facilitate the language learning process. They are trained to focus on the needs and weaknesses of the learner and to plan the structure and content of the lessons accordingly. The students therefore always receive tuition that is relevant and based on what they actually need to learn.

Tutorial[™] Programmes: needs driven

When OISE was founded in Oxford over 48 years ago, it delivered all of its courses by Tutorial. The Tutorial[™] lesson, a teaching tradition of Oxford University, is one of the most effective methods of education. The entire course is conducted by means of individual tuition thus allowing the lessons to be adapted to the precise level and goals of each participant.

The cognitive perspective of students can vary considerably; this explains why the Tutorial is such a powerful learning environment: in the lessons, the teacher focuses on the one student, and can therefore tailor the pedagogic approach to the pupil's natural learning mindset.

The Tutorial lesson draws its effectiveness from the benefit of the tutor engagement with each individual pupil's learning, and the consistent level of concentration on the part of the student.

The personal language programme

A language audit carried out at the beginning of each course determines the precise level, needs and objectives of the participant. This forms the basis of the student's personal learning programme.

A balanced timetable

Each participant is assigned a team of tutors who each specialise in a different aspect of the curriculum. The learner is exposed to a variety of pedagogic approaches as well as different personalities, voices, intonation and accents: a situation that reflects the diversity of expression in the wider world.

Specialisations

Tutorial tuition allows for the course to concentrate on a specific area of focus such as:

- professional: work-related terminology (e.g banking, pharmaceutical, legal, finance) or management communication skills such as presenting, negotiating, public speaking, leading.
- academic: study skills and also to prepare students for the language component of a specific examination.
- achievement of an official certificate: for those wishing to take an exam such as IELTS, Cambridge exams, TOEFL, TOEIC, etc.

Each school therefore has a dedicated team whose role is to ensure that students have a comfortable, welcoming place to stay and a varied programme of social events to enjoy after a day's study.

Accommodation

Homestay

To maximise the opportunities for speaking English, OISE has a policy of never allowing two students of the same mother tongue to stay in any one homestay.

Each host family is selected and monitored according to strict criteria laid down by OISE. Homes must be comfortable, the hosts welcoming and, above all, genuinely interested in receiving students and helping them to develop fluency in the English language.

Hotel or student residence

OISE recognises that some students would rather not have to adapt to living in a host family and prefer to stay in a hotel or student residence. To stay in a hotel or a student residence or to stay without OISE accommodation, please deduct £336 /($545 in Boston) per week from the course price and contact OISE for the list of recommended hotels and residences.

If We do waive a default by you, We will only do so in writing, and that will not mean that We will automatically waive any later default by you.
