On Point - Wisconsin Dells, Wisconsin

Our shops have worked with JTs for decades, and we are very excited to start this new shop, On Point, with some great candidates. There will be tons of interaction with American tourists as well as American coworkers. The photos included here are of other locations we run that are very similar. The new location is going through a remodel at the moment. Wisconsin Dells is the waterpark capital of the world and a fun active town. There are many events, including car shows as well as tons of attractions to visit. Everything is within biking distance. There are tons of restaurants and bars to go out to as well. Our shop is a high-end tourist giftshop that strives to sell the best quality hoodies, t-shirts, and souvenirs. We are a very busy town and like to work with people who are outgoing and motivated.

Oceanana Pier and Pier House Restaurant - Atlantic Beach, North Carolina

The Oceanana Pier House Restaurant is located directly on the beach in Atlantic Beach, North Carolina. Atlantic Beach is on the southern end of North Carolina's Outer Banks in an area referred to as "The Crystal Coast."

We are a family-owned business that was established in 1959. We have had cultural exchange students work with our team in the past and look forward to having more international students join our team for the summer of 2024. Being on the beach, we are very busy during the summer season, so there are a lot of opportunities for students to work and earn money. But, there are also amazing natural resources and fun cultural activities in our area as well. The housing we provide for our staff is located only 100 meters from the beach--we provide beach cruisers (bikes), beach chairs, and surfboards for our international students to use so that they can explore our area during their time off.
