Timberlock - Indian Lake, New York

We are one of the oldest guest resorts in the Adirondack Mountains of northern New York state. We are located on the shore of Indian Lake, a 12-mile wilderness gem surrounded by protected parkland. We host 65 guests each week who stay in individual cabins without electricity, accessed by footpaths, and offer three meals a day on an open-air dining porch and a host of outdoor activities.

Staff are an integral part of the success of the operation, living on-site and involved with everything from greeting incoming guests to serving meals, property maintenance, cabin cleaning, trip leading, and teaching outdoor skills.

Employee Perks

Three complimentary meals provided each day, affordable housing, end of season bonus if you remain until the end

Cultural Opportunities

Group outings including: boat cruises on the lake, hiking trips, and museum tours

Beaver Run Resort and Conference Center - Breckenridge, Colorado

Beaver Run Resort is located in Breckenridge, Colorado - the heart of the Colorado Rocky Mountains. Nestled between the mountains, you're just a few steps away from the ski slopes in the winter and the hiking trails in the summer. Beaver Run is the largest conference center in Breckenridge, with the most scenic views and the most professional team, services, and amenities. Breckenridge is a celebrate everything kind of town. Which means there's always something fun going on. Breckenridge's packed summer calendar brings people together around bikes, hikes, rafting, history, art, and music. The average temperature during summer is 72°F during the day and 56°F at night. At 9600 feet, the air here is "thin," meaning it contains less oxygen. Altitude sickness is a common issue for people who visit here. Symptoms of mild, short-term altitude sickness usually begin 12 to 24 hours after arriving at high altitude.
